E-Resource License Agreement and Guidelines for Fair Use

E-Resource License Agreement and Guidelines for Fair Use....page1

All India Institute of Medical Sciences

Ansari Nagar, New Delhi-110029.

E-Resource License Agreements and Guidelines for Fair Use

The BBDL subscribes to thousands of electronic journals including full-text electronic resources and bibliographic databases for its users. All electronic resources available through the website are governed by license agreements. The terms and conditions for using these resources are spelled out in license agreements that are signed with each publisher by the BBDL on behalf of its institution. The licenses for electronic resources impose two types of restrictions on its usage, namely i) who can use these resources; and ii) how the resources can be used. The first restriction defines authorized users for e-resources, which generally includes students, faculty, staff and onsite visitors of the institution. The second restriction deals with how these resources can be used. It is the responsibility of individual users to ensure that e-resources are used for personal, educational and research purposes only. Most of the agreements entered into by the BBDL and publishers specify items that users are prohibited to do. Some of them are as follows:

- Systematic or programmatic downloading, retention, and printing are prohibited. For example, you cannot download entire issue of a journal or print out several copies of the same article.
- Electronic distribution of content is also restricted although the specific restrictions vary from publisher to publisher. It may be permissible to forward an article to another colleague in your own institution by email, however, transmitting an article to someone outside of the institution, or to a large group of recipients, a mailing list, or an electronic bulletin board, is not allowed.
- If you are teaching a class, you can print out a copy of an article from an electronic journal and include it in your course pack. However, do not make multiple copies for circulation. Copyright laws protect published material in any format so that it cannot be copied except in accordance with fair use. Providing access to material for educational purposes falls within the realm of fair use.
- Please ensure that the resource is used for educational and research purposes and not for commercial purposes.
- Providing electronic links on your course web pages to the Library's licensed resources is permitted but you cannot post the PDF of an article on your website. The publishers' main concern is that people outside of your campus network should not be able to access resources licensed by your institution. However, a researcher can post a pre-print of an article written by himself.
- As with any kind of scholarly communication, a researcher can use phrases or quotes from other articles and cite the source of information. However, a researcher is prohibited from using large chunk of information (paras and chapters) from an article or from a chapter in a book.

What happens if the License is violated?

E-Resource License Agreement and Guidelines for Fair Use....page2

Publishers track the use of their electronic resources in terms of number of downloads made by subscribing institution. Misuse, if any, is notified to the subscribing resources with details of kinds of violations and institution is expected to take action. The publisher also suspends the access to e-resource pending suitable action by subscribing institution. The access is stopped not only for journals where licence agreement was violated but for all journals by the same publisher. Moreover, the access is suspended not only for the individual violator but for the entire institution.

Conditions of Use and Licensing Restrictions for Electronic Resources

The BBDL subscribes to thousands of electronic journals and bibliographic databases for use by authorized users in the institution. The terms and conditions for using these resources are spelled out in electronic resource license agreements with each publisher. It is the responsibility of individual users to ensure that the use of electronic resources does not breach the terms and conditions specified in the license agreements. Licenses vary from publisher to publisher; however, the general principles are as follows:

Permitted	Not Permitted
<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Viewing, downloading, copying, printing and saving a copy of search results</li><li>• Viewing, downloading, copying, printing and saving individual articles</li><li>• Using e-resources for scholarly, educational or scientific research, teaching, private study and clinical purposes</li><li>• Sending a copy of an article to another authorized user (i.e. current faculty, students or staff)</li></ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>• Use of robots or intelligent agents to do systematic, bulk or automatic downloading is not permitted</li><li>• Systematic downloading or printing of entire journal issues or volumes, or large portions of other e-resources is not permitted</li><li>• Using e-resources for commercial gain is not permitted (i.e. reselling, redistributing or republishing licensed content)</li><li>• Transmitting, disseminating or otherwise making online content available to unauthorized users (i.e. sending to mailing lists or electronic bulletin boards) is not permitted</li></ul>
Posting the URL to the publisher's version of the article on a class website (publisher links will allow only authorized users access)	Posting the publisher's version or PDF of an article to an open class website is not permitted (instead, post the URL to the article which will allow only authorized users access)

— ENDURING VALUES OF THE MEDICAL PROFESSION

🔊 Listen ▶️

No greater opportunity, responsibility, or obligation can fall to the lot of a human being than to become a physician. In the care of the suffering, [the physician] needs technical skill, scientific knowledge, and human understanding.... Tact, sympathy, and understanding are expected of the physician, for the patient is no mere collection of symptoms, signs, disordered functions, damaged organs, and disturbed emotions. [The patient] is human, fearful, and hopeful, seeking relief, help, and reassurance.

—Harrison's Principles of Internal Medicine, 1950

Acland's Anatomy

Acland Anatomy is a video atlas of Human Anatomy. Because of its realism, simple language, and three-dimensional quality, the Video Atlas has become popular with students and teachers in many other fields and also with people not on a professional learning path who are looking for information about human anatomy. Over 300 detailed video clips of human dissections in their natural colours presenting the head and neck, upper and lower extremity, trunk and internal organs. Explores moving structures from bone to surface anatomy. Each video is accompanied by narration and structure labelling.

The screenshot shows the website's header with the title "ACLAND'S VIDEO ATLAS OF HUMAN ANATOMY" and the Wolters Kluwer logo. A navigation bar includes links for "VIDEOS", "EXAMS", "GLOSSARY", "A-Z INDEX", and "ABOUT", along with a search bar. Below the navigation, it states "Access Provided By: All India Institute of Medical Sciences, Delhi" and offers a "Login to My Personal Account" button. ## Web of Science World Leading citation Database can be access through B.B. Dikshit Library (www.webofknowledge.com)

Web of Science is an online subscription-based scientific citation indexing service maintained by Thomson Reuters that provides a comprehensive citation search. It gives access to multiple databases that reference cross-disciplinary research, which allows for in-depth exploration of specialized sub-fields within an academic or scientific discipline.

We subscribe “Web of Science Core Collection: Citation Indexes. Science Citation Index Expanded (SCI-EXPANDED) -1956 to 2016”

The screenshot displays the Web of Science search interface. At the top, a navigation bar includes links for 'Web of Science', 'InCites', 'Journal Citation Reports', 'Essential Science Indicators', 'EndNote', 'Publons', and 'Kopernio'. On the right side of the navigation bar are 'Sign In', 'Help', and 'English' options. The main header area features the 'Web of Science' logo and the 'Clarivate Analytics' logo. Below the header, there are navigation links for 'Tools', 'Searches and alerts', 'Search History', and 'Marked List'. A 'Select a database' dropdown menu is set to 'Web of Science Core Collection'. To the right of this menu is a 'Claim your publications' button with a 'P' icon and the text 'Track your citations'. Below the database selection, there are four search tabs: 'Basic Search', 'Cited Reference Search', 'Advanced Search', and 'Author Search'. The 'Basic Search' tab is active. The search input field contains the text 'Example: oil spill* mediterranean'. To the right of the input field is a 'Topic' dropdown menu and a 'Search' button. Below the search input field, there are '+ Add row' and 'Reset' options. At the bottom left, there is a 'Timespan' dropdown menu set to 'All years (1956 - 2019)' and a 'More settings' dropdown menu.

WEB OF SCIENCE™ EVERYWHERE

Quick, powerful access to the global research ecosystem, using the world's leading core, emerging, and regional citation databases.

RESEARCHER – Understand your impact, identify trends, and find new collaborators and funders across disciplines and regions

EMERGING SOURCES CITATION INDEX

4,183 journals, 45% Open Access; 2,105 journals are discoverable, citable, and under consideration for inclusion in the Core Collection insight into journal citation performance

FUNDER – Identify emerging fields and topics of regional importance to support your research assessment and analysis

WEB OF SCIENCE CORE COLLECTION

>12,500 highest impact journals
>170,000 conference proceedings
>70,000 books

A detailed map to over a century of discovery and innovation (1900-present) in the sciences, social sciences, and arts & humanities

RESEARCH ADMINISTRATOR – A trusted data source to identify top researchers and benchmark your institution vs. peers

REGIONAL CITATION INDEXES

Fully curated regional content from researchers in emerging economies (China, Latin America, Korea, Russia), searchable alongside Core Collection

PUBLISHER – Important regional and emerging titles discoverable alongside established, top-tier journals

The Web of Science is built on the belief that quality, consistency, and dedication will build the best tools.

The most meticulously indexed research discovery tool in the world, Web of Science is the only true citation index, allowing users to search deeply and trace the history of discovery and innovation using more than 1 billion manually curated and unified cited references spanning over 115 years.

EXPLORE the most highly cited and impactful literature in your field, as well as important titles in emerging areas of interdisciplinary research.

MEASURE IMPACT with benchmarking tools and business information systems; get the data you need to analyze your impact, understand your value, and make strategic decisions.

UNCOVER hidden connections in the literature through citations. Realize seminal discoveries and follow them forward to the most recent outcomes. Use the unique citation network to power your discovery.

IDENTIFY the most prolific and influential papers, authors, and institutions in your discipline.

Proceedings of National Academy of Sciences of the United States of America (www.pnas.org)

PNAS is one of the world's most-cited and comprehensive multidisciplinary scientific journals, publishing more than 3,800 research papers annually. Established in 1914, PNAS publishes cutting-edge research, science news, Commentaries, Reviews, Perspectives, Colloquium Papers, and actions of the National Academy of Sciences.

The screenshot shows the PNAS website interface. At the top, there are navigation links: Submit, About, Contact, Journal Club, and Subscribe. On the right, it displays the user's institution as 'All India Institute of Medical Sciences (AIIMS DELHI)' and provides 'Log in' and 'Log out' options. The main header features the PNAS logo and the full name of the organization. A search bar is present with the placeholder text 'Keyword, Author, or DOI' and a magnifying glass icon, with a link to 'Advanced Search' below it. A secondary navigation bar includes 'Home', 'Articles', 'Front Matter', 'News', 'Podcasts', and 'Authors'. Below this, there are three dropdown menus for 'NEW RESEARCH IN' categories: 'Physical Sciences', 'Social Sciences', and 'Biological Sciences'. A yellow banner in the center of the page reads 'PNAS congratulates the 2017 Cozzarelli Prize winners.' At the bottom, there are two featured images: one showing various biological specimens on a blue surface, and another showing a PNAS journal cover with the title 'Stress signaling in land plant ancestors' and a 'Current Issue' button.

JoVE

JoVE, the Journal of Visualized Experiments, is the world's first peer reviewed scientific video journal. Established in 2006, JoVE is devoted to publishing scientific research in a visual format to help researchers overcome two of the biggest challenges facing the scientific research community today; poor reproducibility and the time and labor intensive nature of learning new experimental techniques.

The screenshot displays the JoVE website interface. At the top, there are navigation buttons for 'Subscribe', 'Recommend', and 'Publish', along with links for 'Editorial Boards', 'Testimonials', and 'About'. A welcome message and links for 'Learn more about access' and 'create an account' are also present. The main header features the JoVE logo, a search bar with the placeholder text 'Search by keywords, for example: 'stem cells'', and a 'Search' button. A 'Sign In' button with a dropdown arrow is located to the right of the search bar.

The central content area is divided into two main sections. The left section features a video player showing a person in a lab coat and gloves working with a silicon nanowire field-effect transistor. The video title is 'Preparation of Silicon Nanowire Field-effect Transistor for Chemical and Biosensing Applications'. A play button icon and '1 of 8' are visible in the top left corner of the video player.

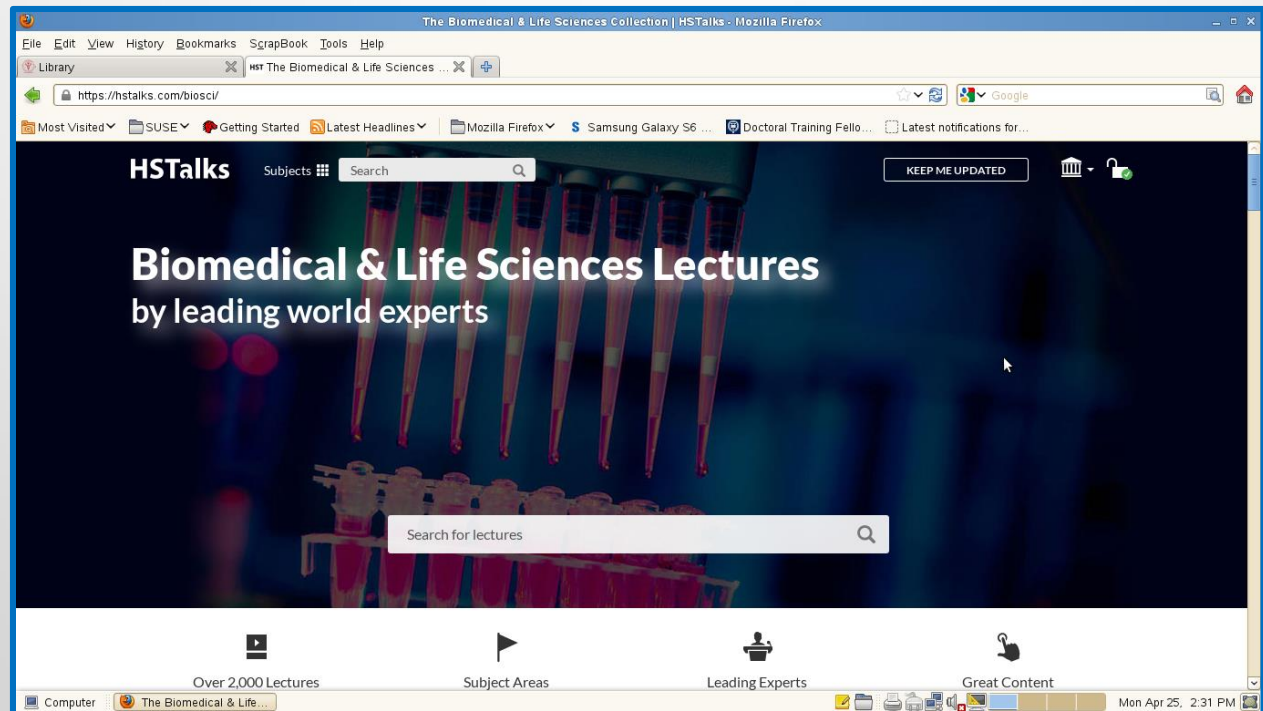

The right section is titled 'JoVE Journal (Impact Factor 1.325)' and lists various scientific disciplines with corresponding icons: Biology (B), Neuroscience (N), Medicine (M), Bioengineering (BE), Engineering (ENG), Immunology and Infection (i), Chemistry (C), Behavior (Bh), Environment (E), and Developmental Biology (DB). A link 'Click here to watch a free sample →' is provided below the list.

Below the journal section is the 'JoVE Science Education' section, which lists disciplines: Basic Biology (SE), Advanced Biology (SE), Psychology (SE), Environmental Sciences (SE), and Chemistry (SE). A link 'Click here to watch a free sample →' is also provided.

At the bottom of the page, there are three navigation buttons: 'Most Recent Journal Videos', 'Most Recent Science Education', and 'Most Popular Video Articles'.

UpToDate (Anytime Anywhere Access)

www.uptodate.com

- Uptodate is a systematic review database designed to give physician current clinical information. Topics in Uptodate are systematically written by thousands of Physician authors and passes through a rigorous editorial process to get the most recent, accurate and reliable information which can be used by medical professionals at the point-of-care
- B.B Dikshit Library has started providing individual anywhere access to UpTodat database from April 2017. User need to register themselves to uptodate.com from AIIMS Authorizes Institutional IP Range. Once registered it can be activated for 3 months and can be accessed from anywhere outside AIIMS. After 3 months again login from AIIMS authorised IP range to get activated for next 3 months.

The screenshot displays the UpToDate website interface. At the top left is the UpToDate logo, and at the top right are links for 'Language' and 'Help'. Below the logo is a navigation bar with 'Welcome, All India Institute of Medical Sciences' and 'Log In / Register'. A search bar contains the text 'bronchitis' with a magnifying glass icon. To the right of the search bar are links for 'Contents', 'Patient Education', 'What's New', 'Practice Changing UpDates', 'Calculators', and 'Drug Interactions'. Below the search bar, it says 'Search Results for "bronchitis"'. There are filter tabs for 'All', 'Adult', 'Pediatric', 'Patient', and 'Graphics', with 'All' selected. A 'Collapse Results' link is on the right. The first result is 'bronchitis = Tracheobronchitis'. Below this is a section for 'Acute bronchitis in adults' with a brief description and links for 'Treatment', 'Clinical features', and 'Summary and recommendations'. The second result is 'Tracheobronchitis associated with tracheostomy tubes and endotracheal intubation in children' with a brief description and links for 'Treatment' and 'Summary and recommendations'. The third result is 'Bacterial tracheitis in children: Treatment and prevention' with a brief description. A vertical scrollbar is visible on the right side of the results area.

BMJ Best Practice/ Clinical Evidence

<http://bestpractice.bmj.com/best-practice/welcome.html>

BMJ Best Practice gives medical professionals the best available information for any clinical situation. Regularly updated, it draws on the latest evidence-based research to offer step-by-step guidance on diagnosis, prognosis, treatment and prevention. It includes original topic reviews and monographs, calculators, images, practice guidelines, integrated reference texts etc. It is available on Unbound medicine's mobile platform as well as directly from BMJ. Now BMJ Best Practice Mobile app is also available. One can download the app from Google Play Store and login from authorised Institutional IP range with an institutional code provided by the Chief Librarian. After that it can be accessed outside the campus with the same login id. One can download the content pdf format and save it to read it offline.

The screenshot shows the BMJ Best Practice website. At the top left is the logo "BMJ Best Practice" with the tagline "Your instant second opinion". A green-bordered box at the top right contains the text: "Log in to unlock further BMJ Best Practice benefits, such as CME/CPD certificates. Haven't got a personal account? Register for free now." Below the logo is a search bar with a "Search" button and a "Show conditions" button. The search bar contains the text "Search in your language" and "Search BMJ Best Practice". Below the search bar are two columns of content. The left column is titled "What's new or updated?" and lists several medical conditions with document icons: "Cavernous sinus thrombosis", "Assessment of chest pain", "Constipation in children", "Diabetic kidney disease", "Heat stroke", and "Herpes zoster infection". The right column is titled "What is a BMJ Best Practice personal account?" and lists benefits: "It's free and unlocks benefits such as:" followed by "Access to the BMJ Best Practice mobile app" and "CME/CPD certificates to recognise your learning".

BMJ Case Report

<http://casereports.bmj.com/>

- BMJ Case Report is an important educational resource which offers peer-reviewed, valuable collection of cases across all disciplines. It helps healthcare professionals, researchers and others to find clinically important information on common and rare conditions. This is the largest single collection of case reports online with more than 11,000 articles from over 70 countries.
- Since AIIMS has the Institutional subscription of Case Report, Doctors can submit their rare cases for free, with the help of a code provided by Chief Librarian

The screenshot displays the BMJ Case Reports website interface. At the top, the title "BMJ Case Reports" is prominently displayed in a blue banner. Below the title, there is a search bar and a navigation menu with options like "Last 7 days", "Archive", "About us", "Submit an article", "Become a Fellow", "Jobs", and "Help". The main content area features a breadcrumb trail "Home > Archive > Article" and the article title "Erdheim-Chester disease: atypical presentation of a rare disease". The authors listed are Cristian Ricardo Calandra, Ariel Bustos, Florencia Falcon, and Naomi Arakaki. The article was accepted on 26 September 2017 and published on 11 October 2017. A "Summary" section begins with the text: "We report the clinical case of an adult patient referred to our hospital because of trismus due to a tumour in the right infratemporal and pterygomaxillary fossa. He referred hyporexia, weight loss and right trigeminal neuralgia. On physical examination, he had trismus and diplopia. On neuroimaging, the tumour invaded the central nervous system affecting the right temporal lobe". On the right side of the article, there is a "This Article" section with links for "Summary", "Full text", and "PDF". Below this, there are "Services" such as "Email this link to a friend", "Alert me when this article is cited", and "Add article to my folders". There is also a "Responses" section with a link to "Submit a response". On the far right, there is a sidebar with a search bar, a "Subscribe here" link, a "Sign in" form, and social media icons for Twitter, Facebook, and YouTube.

Embase <https://www.embase.com/#search>

Embase is a biomedical and pharmacological database available from 1974-present. The database contains approximately 27 million records and indexes more than 8000 peer-reviewed journals. The database also indexes more than 3000 conferences and more than 900000 conference abstracts that have been published in journals and journal supplements. Over 300000 conference abstracts from 1000 conferences are indexed every year in EMBASE, providing a unique and extensive coverage of conference abstracts in the biomedical and pharmacology fields.

PLAGIARISM

The word plagiarize actually comes from the Latin plagiare—to kidnap (Oxford English Dictionary).

- ❖ Plagiarism is the act of stealing someone else's work and attempting to "pass it off" as your own. This can apply to anything, from term papers to photographs to songs, even ideas!
- ❖ Submit a paper / Dissertation Thesis to be graded or reviewed that you have not written on your own.
- ❖ Copy answers or text from another classmate and submit it as your own.
- ❖ Quote or paraphrase from another paper without crediting the original author.
- ❖ Cite data without crediting the original source.
- ❖ Propose another author's idea as if it were your own.
- ❖ Fabricating references or using incorrect references.
- ❖ Submitting someone else's presentation, program, spreadsheet, or other file with only minor alterations;
- ❖ buying or selling term papers /assignments/ Dissertations / Thesis;

PLAGIARISM IN RESEARCH

- Plagiarism is specifically defined as a form of research misconduct
- “Misconduct means fabrication, falsification, plagiarism, or any other practice that seriously deviates from practices commonly accepted in the discipline or in the academic and research communities generally in proposing, performing, reviewing, or reporting research and creative activities.”

iThenticate is plagiarism detection web tool that is designed to be used by researchers to ensure the originality of written work before publication. It is a product of iParadigms, a company that provides web-based solutions for plagiarism prevention. iParadigms, LLC also runs the websites Turnitin and Plagiarism.org.
