

Every problem or difficulty in life is an opportunity for you to learn new thing. It allows you to be creative and produce positive results and makes you able to produce solution of all that ,you may face with. New initiative comes from careful thinking and making efforts to produce something. While making efforts and doing due processes , you get experience and be able to demonstrate your abilities and gain confidence. Confidence is something that gives you self esteem which further motivates you to produce successful results. In medicine, it is your ability to learn and develop competencies for diagnosis, decision making and of course then, treating patients with high degree of professionalism and producing academics through proper communication and it is how you could signal or communicate well to your patients, colleagues, and friends that matter in life to achieve success in the civil society. It is that aspect of studies i.e. doing research for innovative work make you eminent and produce in you a new leader in the health sciences. Through written communication of what you do in academics, brings you into eminence in the society and people. So you have to set goals.

The goals are about gaining (1) direction, (2)clarity, and (3)the vision.

I am sure during your stay in AIIMS, you will be able to learn and achieve all that your parents have sent you here for and realize, all that you have dreamt of , for making in yourself a competent doctor or a scientist ,or a loving and successful teacher for the future, and becoming the future leaders in the Health sciences sector.

Always, be honest, and dedicate yourself for the cause of Nation –building and making the people happy through your sincere and competent services.

We are committed to your comfort and wellbeing.
All the best.

Thanks to all!

Director's Address: New MBBS Students, 2009 Batch

Distinguished colleagues, friends and my dear students,

Good morning to you all! A hearty welcome to you all to AIIMS. You are at the most prestigious medical institute of the country. Congratulations to you all on your success. Today you are joining an elite family and you should feel proud of it. As the head of the family, I would like to assure you that you can expect a comfortable stay in the campus. You would receive adequate help and support from your seniors as well as faculty members to acclimatize yourself at the earliest. Feel free to interact and ask for help. Ragging in any form is illegal. Do not be a party to ragging.

Till you are familiar with the campus and the city, you may require help and guidance. The hostel staff, Faculty and the security personnel will provide you with all that are required for your wellbeing.

We have here a brilliant set of Faculty and its supporting staff in different location in our labs, Anatomy dissection Hall/Lab, Physiology labs and others. They are a very well trained and qualified faculty with caring and sharing attitude. Our courses here are designed such that theses will provide a strong foundation to our students for developing a successful career in medicine. With the kind of advances in technology and its uses in health sciences - both for diagnostics and therapeutics, there is a paradigm shift in the health care sector requiring to provide a quality and standard service in modern medical practice. The training and learning methods in medicine have significantly changed and improved and have become technology based. However the costs are becoming high and not easily affordable by common man.

I would also like to give you a few tips. I hope you would benefit from these in furthering your cause of studies and become a competent and successful doctor. At AIIMS, our aim is to provide quality focused training that meets the changing demands of modern health care with technology based diagnostics and patient care. Knowledge, skills, and attitude are blended with social and cultural flavor and ethical values, while imparting competency based training to our MBBS students. Our motto-"Pillar success" is our driving force at the AIIMS. Foundation has to be made strong in studies and habits and correct habits become a character in life and work culture.

To achieve success : 1. you must set goals, 2 .Setting goals can't be a "hit and miss process". 3.so, it has to be : (a) systematic , (b) deliberate and (c) carefully crafted action with well thought planning, and (d) the cornerstone of every other aspect of what you do in order to creating a successful abundant happy and balance life.
